Thanks Marcus.

I'll also have a look through my files if we had any correspondence from a couple of years ago.

I've spoken to the department. It sounds like this might have come up a few years back so when they get the chance they're going to forward me the correspondence from then. We can then see whether this has already been covered.

In the meantime I am chasing up with the U of L and with the home institution of the Supervisor, with whom it turns out I have worked before I came to LSE and who I can call if they are available. However, I am aware of serious health issues they have had over the years so will only do this if I know that they are about and well.

Thanks,
Marcus

Has anyone checked with the Law Department?

There is a chance they may have some additional information.

Danny
