Hello Clive,

Yes, if the investigation is being carried out by Marcus he should have the file and you should delete your copy.

Regards,
Rachael

Dear Both

we just had a meeting to iron out LSE's official response to ongoing interest in Ing-Wen Tsai's thesis.

From that, Mark Thomson and Marcus Cerny have confirmed that it is Marcus who should take over what was Simeon's role in investigating the award of the degree. Is it ok to send him the copy of her student record? I will delete my copy.

thanks

Clive

Hi Clive,

I still have the scan done for the previous enquiries and I attach it to this email – I have discussed this with Rachael Maguire and we cannot release the file to anyone else without the subject's permission so please do not pass it on to anybody else.

The relevant pages are I think 43-46 which includes a certificate from the University of London confirming the award of the PhD on 14 March 1984 – it looks as though there was a problem with some of the paperwork from her supervisor. It is possible that with her permission we or the University of London could perhaps release that certificate.

Hope that helps you cope with the enquiries,

All the best

Sue
