You agree to the relationship of the School and yourself being governed by English law and the English courts having sole jurisdiction in relation thereto.

You must stay in London throughout the academic year (for dates of terms, please see the School Calendar). If for any reason you need to go away from London in term-time, you must first consult the Graduate Office as well as your supervisor.

If you are away from the School through illness, you should tell your supervisor. If you are away for more than a fortnight, you must send the Graduate Office a medical certificate.

If you move, you should give the Graduate Office your new address at once (once you have entered for an examination of the University of London, you must tell the University as well).

Tuition fees must be paid in the first week of the term to which the fees refer. Students who withdraw after the beginning of term may be liable for fees for that term.

Please note that on all matters connected with School and University Regulations you should consult the Graduate Office. Supervisors should not be expected to be familiar with all the Regulations, nor should they be expected to pass on to the Graduate Office information about your plans.

I am very pleased to hear that you have now obtained your Ph.D. Degree and I send you my congratulations.

I trust that you will keep in touch with the School and let us hear from you from time to time. We are always interested in the activities of our former students.

We maintain a register of former students and each spring I send a Newsletter to those for whom we have an address. We should be glad to hear from you at any time and I hope that you will join the LSE Society or one of our other alumnus organisations which provide a way of maintaining contact with the School and with your contemporaries. I am enclosing information about them.

Dear [redacted]

I am writing to inform you that your Ph.D. thesis title has now been approved as follows:

[redacted]
[redacted]

Sonia
MS Ghosh

The next thing you should do before you can submit your thesis is to complete an examination entry form, available at the Graduate School Office; you should bear in mind that the University has to appoint examiners when it receives an entry form and that the Committees which do this meet perhaps twice a term. Your entry form should therefore be submitted about four months before the date on which you intend to submit your thesis (or six to seven months if you intend to submit your thesis in the summer vacation); and you should remember that the examiners will probably need at least six to eight weeks to read the thesis before your examination can be held.

This timetable is likely to be delayed if you wish to change your thesis title as any change must now be approved by the Graduate School Committee. If you do wish to change the time at any time, please call at the Graduate School Office to leave a note of the proposed change.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. I.L. Stephenson,
Secretary of the
Graduate School.

21st January 1981

Dear _____

I am writing to advise you that you have now been registered with the University as a full/part-time student at LSE for the degree of M.Phil./Ph.D. as follows:

Name: _____

Faculty: Economics

Field of Study: International Relations

Supervisor(s): _____

Date of Registration: October 1980

Minimum prescribed course from date of registration: 2 academic years

You will not be eligible to submit your thesis for examination before this period of study has been completed.

Every full-time student must notify me at once should he subsequently become engaged in any occupation other than his work for the degree, stating the number of hours per week spent on this work.

A part-time student must notify me of any alteration which takes place in his occupation or in the number of hours per week devoted to this occupation.

A copy of the relevant Regulations is enclosed.

Your attention is drawn to the information overleaf.

Yours sincerely,

Dr I.L. Stephenson,
Secretary of the
Graduate School

Passfield Hall
Endsleigh Place,
London WC1

PTO

NAME OF STUDENT

Students are particularly asked to note the names by which they have been recorded in the University files. In any certifications issued by the University a student's name will be given in full as at the date of the award of the particular qualification, with the surname last.

THESIS OR DISSERTATION TITLE

A student must submit for approval (via the Graduate School Office) the title of his thesis or dissertation at least nine months (unless otherwise prescribed in the Regulations applicable to his subject) before the date on which he wishes to present himself for examination.

ENTRY TO EXAMINATION

Every student is himself responsible for submitting his form of entry to the relevant examination through the Graduate School Office. Any student in doubt about the date by which this form should be submitted should consult the Graduate School Office.

LIBRARY PHOTOGRAPHIC DEPARTMENT

The services of the Library Photographic Department are available to all users of the Library. The Department is equipped for making photostatic reflex, microfilm, autpositive and diazo copies and also enlargements from microfilms. A printed list of charges can be obtained on request to the Library, and advice can be given in the Library Photographic Department, Senate House, WC1.

Attention is particularly drawn to the assistance that can be given to those preparing theses and dissertations in making copies of illustrations, maps, charts, etc. The longest possible notice should be given for photographic work, as at certain times there is likely to be a delay of several weeks in executing orders.

CONDITIONS OF REGISTRATION

The School and University Regulations relating to you and your course are quoted in the Graduate School handbook and the School Calendar. Your signature on the form overleaf binds you to the following conditions of registration:

You must stay in London throughout the academic year (for dates of terms, please see the School Calendar). If for any reason you need to go away from London in term-time, you must first consult the Graduate Office as well as your supervisor.

If you are away from the School through illness, you should tell your supervisor. If you are away for more than a fortnight, you must send the Graduate Office a medical certificate.

If you move, you should give the Graduate Office your new address at once (once you have entered for an examination of the University of London, you must tell the University as well).

Tuition fees must be paid in the first week of the term to which the fees refer. Students who withdraw after the beginning of term may be liable for fees for that term.

Please note that on all matters connected with School and University Regulations you should consult the Graduate Office as well as your supervisor. Supervisors should not be expected to be familiar with all the Regulations, nor should they be expected to pass on the Graduate Office information about your plans.
